Consolidated School Meeting.

The ratepayers of Stony Plain Consolidated School District No. 52 held their annual meeting in Stony Plain Town Hall on Friday last, and a very representative gathering it proved to be.

The report from the Trustees was read, and gave a complete review of the work of the Board for the year just closed.

The report from Principal Clarke, and the Treasurer's and Auditor's reports, and also one from the School Inspector, were read by the Secretary.

The various reports were commented on by the ratepayers, as read by the Secretary; and general satisfaction was expressed at the good showing made during the year at the local school.

At the request of a ratepayer, Principal Clarke addressed the meeting, and, after enumerating some of the difficulties the local teaching staff have to contend with, gave a very hearty invitation to parents and guardians of pupils to co-operate with the teachers, in their efforts to teach the English language.

In his address, the retiring Chairman of the Board, Mr. T. J. Hardwick, gave a clear exposition of the stand the Trustees have taken with regard to the question of consolidation of the school districts; and gave ratepayers distinctly to understand that the matter was entirely in their own hands, and that the Board of Trustees was ever ready to carry out their wishes, whenever so instructed.

After the Chairman closed his remarks, nothing further was said about Consolidation; those who had come to the gathering to hear the matter discussed meeting with a slight disappointment.

At the close of the general meeting, ratepayers of the two school districts met separately. Mr. Landy presiding over the meeting held by the ratepayers of Stony Plain Town S. D.

The retiring Trustee in this district was T. J. Hardwick; and on nominations being called for, he was put up as a candidate by H. Ingram, seconded by John H. Miller.

Mr. G. Oppertshauer was nominated by Mr. Jacob Miller and John B. Miller.

Keen interest was taken in this election, and an even 100 votes were polled, the result at the close showing: Hardwick 56, Oppertshauer 44.

Those nominated for the office of Trustee in Stony Plain Centre S. D. were: Valentine Henning and John Ducholke. When the polls closed it was found that the latter had been elected, the vote standing 11 to 4.

TELLS HOW CATARRH IS DESTROYED QUICKLY

Catarrh sufferers, mauling those with colds, sore throat, bronchial trouble, etc., can all be fixed up right at home by inhaling "Catarrhose." It is using Catarrhose you don't take medicine into the stomach—you just breathe a healing steamy vapor direct to the lungs and air passages. The purest balsams and the greatest anasthetics are thus sent to every spot where catarrhal trouble exists—germs are killed, foul secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance and the disease ends quickly. Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrhose is breathed—sneezing and coughing cease at once, because irritation is removed. Bronchitis irritation and weakness in the throat soon disappear. Use Catarrhose whether young or old. Two months treatment $1.00, small size 50c. Dealers everywhere or The Catarrhose Co., Montreal.

"It's closing time now," said the teller, addressing the manager. "We have enough cash on hand to pay this gentleman, and we can wire for more this, which will reach us in time for tomorrow's business."

"Pay it, then," said the manager. "Mr. Harris has a right to his money, but for him to get it, he must pay for it. He added, turning to Harris, 'I'd advise you to keep both eyes on it until your transaction is completed.'"

The counting of the money was a bigger task than either Harris or Allan had thought, but at last it was completed, and they were ready for the road. The banker looked after their buggy as it faded out of sight up the river road.

"Hang me if I like that!" he said to himself.

The long drive up the valley in the warm August afternoon was an experience for the soul of painter or poet. Even John and Allan Harris, schooled as they were in the religion of material things, felt something within them responding to the air, and the sunlight, and the dark green banks of trees, and the sound of rushing water, and the purple-blue mountains heaving and receding before them. The sweat trickled in narrow tongues down the backs of their horses, reminding them that the ascent was much steeper than it appeared. As they topped each new ridge they looked expectantly forward to a greater revelation of the mountains, but this was constantly denied

No Appetite

Nervous exhaustion leads to distaste for food. The nerves of the stomach are weak, digestion fails and you become generally upset and out of sorts.

The secret of complete restoration is in getting the nervous system fully built up.

Mrs. R. Cherry, 208 Richmond St., Chatham, Ont., writes:

"I was troubled with indigestion, which caused me many sleepless nights. I could be in terrible distress at times, and would get no relief for two or three hours. For several months I ate nothing but Stouffer's Wheat biscuits, as I did not eat anything else. I did not have what to do, as I had tried so many different remedies, as well as doctors' medicines, without getting permanent relief. Finally I got some of Dr. Cass's Nerve Food, and while on the second box realized that I was improving. I continued the treatment and I am now fully restored, and have returned to my regular diet. My husband has also taken Dr. Cass's Nerve Food with splendid results, so we are glad to recommend it to others."

by ever-recurring successions of ridges still ahead. The long, smooth swell of the plain gradually gave way to five more abrupt formations of the foothills, and here and there in their rounded domes protruded great warts of green-grey rock where the winds of ages had whipped the sand down into the valleys. Little clusters of green poplars like vast goatees, nestled on the northern chin of the hills across the valley, where the Chinook had failed to spread its balmy winter-blight among them; here and there were glimpses of thousands of cattle feeding on the brown ranges. The sun, like a bubble of molten gold blown from the bowl of heaven, hung very close in a star-bright, cloudless sky. Lower it fell, and lower, until a line of rock two miles high pierced its under-edge, and sent a flood of fire pouring in a thin, bluish border along the crest of the Rockies. The travelers stopped their horses on a ridge to watch the marvellous transformation, light before them, light behind them, at their feet the shadows creeping up the mountain sides, and the valley beneath transformed as by some fairy wand into a sea of amber.

Allan breathed deeply of the high, clear air, and in his eye was something which revealed that the light without had some way struck to new life the slumbering light within. He had no words of expression or means of conveying his emotion; but he thought of his mother and Beniah—Beniah, who had so often protested against the substituting of existence for life. He had never had much patience with her queer notions, but now, in this moment when he knew that in some strange way he had invaded the borderland of the infinite, Beniah stood up before his eyes—Beniah his sister remounted his flint, reaching out, demanding life, life! He turned to his father, who was silenced by the sight of a line of moisture crawling slowly down the weather-beaten cheek of John Harris, who was driving again the pioneer trail from Emerson; at his side was Mary, young, beautiful and trusting, and before them lay life. And they had not found that life.

He made a dry sound in his throat, and the horses moved on.

Darkness settled about them. One or two stars came out. The poplars took on the colour of the spruce; the river fretted more noisily in its rocky channel. A thin ribbon of cloud lay across the mountains, and a breeze of wonderful mellowness came down through the passes.

At length, just as they were thinking of pitching camp for the night, Allan espied a deserted cabin in a cluster of trees by the side of the road. They turned into the wood and unfastened the light.

The building was some old prospector's shack, long unoccupied save for occasional hunter or rancher, and the multitude of gophers that had burrowed under its rotting walls. The glass was gone from a single window looking out upon the road; the door had fallen from its hinges; the floor had been broken down in spots by the hoofs of wandering cattle. A match revealed a lantern hanging on the wall, and a few cooking utensils, safe from all marauders under the unwritten law of the new land.

The two men first made their horses comfortable, and then cooked some supper on a little fire at the door of the shack. Harris was tired, so they cleared a space in the corner farthest from the door, and sprang to it in blankets there. Harris lay down to rest, the precious bag of money by his side.

"You might as well drop off for a nap," Allan suggested. "They must have been delayed, and may not make it tonight at all. We're here for the night, and you may as well rest if you can. I won't turn in myself until you waken."

"I believe I'll do as you say," his father agreed. "Keep a k-e-n-e-r-an' don't leave the building without waking me."

Allan looked out at different times for Gardiner and Riles, but there seemed no sound in all the world save the rushing of water. A cold draught crept along the floor. He fancied his father had fallen into a nap. The night chill deepened, and at length Allan hung a blanket as best he could across the open door. His gun gave him a sense of companionship, and he took it in his hands and sat down beside his father. It was very lean and graceful in his fingers.

While the banker worked in his garden in the long August evening, the thought of the two men with a bag full of money kept re-arriving and recurring in his mind, and smothering the natural pride he felt in his abounding cabbage. True, it was no business of his, but still he could not feel entirely at ease. As he bent over his hoe he heard hoofs clatter in the street, and looking up, saw the erect form of Sergeant Grey on his well-dressed Government horse. At a signal from the banker the policeman drew up beside the fence.

They talked in low voices for ten minutes. "It may be a wild-goose chase," said the sergeant at last, "but it's worth a try." He'll be here before his horse was swimming in his long, steady stride up the road by the winding river.

CHAPTER XVI.

The Menace of Thieves

Gardiner and Riles rode only a short distance out of town, then turned their horses into the deep bush, and waited. The afternoon wore on heavily, and the sound of musketry bounded them sorely, but there was nothing to do but wait. It would be a fool's trip, as Gardiner said, to go hunting unless they were assured of game.

But at last the Harrises' team and buggy rattled up. When it had secured a good lead the two horsemen emerged from their covering and took a cross road to Gardiner's ranch.

"We better eat," said Gardiner, and busied himself with starting a fire. "Of course, the cook's out. Fishing, I guess," he continued, as he noticed that Travers' fishing rod was gone from the wall. "Perhaps it's just as well. He might be asking questions."

Riles ate his meat in haste and silence. He was taciturn, moody and excitable, and made no response to Gardiner's attempts to open conversation upon trivial subjects.

"Upon my soul," said Gardiner at last, "you don't seem any more than enthusiastic. One would think you were going to a funeral instead of a division of profits."

"Perhaps I am," said Riles stoutly. "We'll know better when we get back."

"Well, if you feel that way about it, you better stay at home," said Gardiner, with pointed candour. "If ten thousand dollars is no good to you perhaps I can use your share in my own business."

"That wouldn't let me out," protested Riles. "You've got me mixed up in it now, and if things go wrong I'm in for it, but if things go right you're within a mile of the money."

"Things won't go wrong," Gardiner assured him. "They can't. Everything is planned to a fraction, but if we see there's going to be a hitch—why, the owner of the mine'll talk to turn up, and we'll all come back to town, and no one a bit the wiser."

Gardiner arose and took a bottle from a cupboard. He poured a big glass and set it before Riles. "Drink that, and the night will look more to your liking," he said.

Riles responded to the liquor, and presently the two were in animated discussion of their plans. Riles was eager to know the details of which he had been kept in complete ignorance, but Gardiner would disclose no thing until they were on the road. "Jim may come to any minute," he explained, "and Jim might hear enough to make him suspicious. And it's just a little too soon to excite his curiosity."

"That reminds me," Gardiner continued. "Jim has a very neat little revolver here somewhere. I think I'll borrow it. We might see some game, as Allan says."

A search disclosed revolver and cartridges in Travers' trunk. Gardiner loaded the weapon and put it in his pocket.

"What about me?" demanded Riles. "Ain't I a part of the gun?"

"Better without it," said Gardiner. "It might go off. If we really see any game, and there's a chance of a second shot, I'll lend you this one."

The sun was dipping almost to the mountains when they set out on a cross trail through the valley. Down by the river, well screened with cotton-woods, Travers flared in a pool close by the ford. He heard voices, and looking up quickly saw Riles and Gardiner riding slowly down the road. At first he thought Gardiner had seen him but in a moment he revised that opinion. The two men were not stopped their horses to drink with their forelegs in the river. Jim was a going to call to them when he heard his own name mentioned. He was no daydreamer, but he obeyed the impulse to listen and keep out of sight.

"Travers doesn't suspect a thing," Gardiner was saying. "It's just as well. He hasn't on making old Harris his father-in-law some day, and he might do something foolish. If he caught on. If the old man loses all his money he won't be so desirable from a son-in-law's point of view. Well, we'll see how he stands the night in the old shanty up the river road. Strange things have happened there before now, let me tell you, Riles."

If Jim had been prompted by curiosity at first a very different emotion laid hold of him as he caught the gist of Gardiner's remarks. It led to deductions about the principles of either Gardiner or Riles. His relations with his present employer had been pleasant but by no means confidential, as he had never sought nor valued Gardiner's friendship. He was convinced that Gardiner was kind in a general way to those with whom he came in contact, because kindness cost nothing and might, upon occasion, be exceedingly profitable. Riles, on the other hand, was coarse and unkind simply because his nature rose to no higher plane. Gardiner was clever enough to conceive almost any depth of villainy and Riles was brutal enough to carry out the monstrous part of the plot. Travers had not known Harris to be in the district, but he had suspected for some days that Gardiner and Riles were hatching mischief in their long shenanigans together. The information

Did Not Dream Tanlac Could Bring Her Such Wonderful Health

"I am only too glad to praise Tanlac, for it has done for me what I never dreamed was possible, and I now feel so well I can hardly realize that only a short time ago I was in such a miserable condition," said Miss Alythe Perth, 351 Carlton St., a popular young Winnipeg business woman, conducting a public stenographic office.

"Just about three years ago I had a nervous breakdown which kept me in bed for several weeks and left me in such an awful state of health I had but scant hope of ever getting better. I was so nervous I trembled all over, couldn't sleep and even after I went back to the office, I seemed to have no strength at all and only through sheer force of will power was I able to attend to my duties. My stomach soon became disordered, and indigestion caused me the most frightful pains, bloating and shortness of breath. My kidneys also bothered me and I had a pain across the small of my back that made life positively miserable."

"Well, despite the fact that I was trying one medicine after another, I found I was getting down hill rapidly. But after taking only two bottles of Tanlac I could see it was doing me a world of good, and seven bottles have relieved me of all my ailments and now my health is just fine. My whole system seems to be in the best of condition, and I eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better than for years. Tanlac is simply grand."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

that Harris was going up the river to-night, apparently with a large sum of money, and the fact that these two men also were going up the river, gave to Travers' nimble mind framework on which to hang almost any kind of plot.

Helping the Farmer Pay Debts

Plans have just been completed for the largest program of winter instructional work ever carried out by the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

The plans include the operation of a special train through portions of the province, the holding of a series of conferences between business men and farmers in Southern Alberta, the holding of short courses in irrigation, holding of a large number of meetings to discuss methods of farming, a series of poultry meetings, etc.

The big idea to be presented in all of these meetings, as emphasized by Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture, is to encourage the farmer to produce the stuff that will earn for him a living from day to day, and enable him to pay his debts as he goes along.

The Highway Act.

Hon. Alex. Ross, Minister of Public Works, has now completed his new Highways Act, which will establish a Highways Commissioner, who will make recommendations with respect to a system of roads and their construction in the Province.

The Act will also establish a Highways Board, which will include 1 member from the Engineering Staff of the University; the Highways Commissioner, who shall be Chairman; and 2 members named or recommended by the Association of Municipal Districts.

The duties of the Board shall be to consider reports of the Highways Commissioner, to allocate money voted by the Legislature, to make rules of traffic.

The Act also classifies highways as follows:

Main highways—the cost of which will be borne by the province;

Market roads—part of the cost of which will be assumed by the local authorities;

Local roads—the entire cost of which will be borne by the local authorities;

Colonization roads—for the purpose of opening new districts, the cost of which will be borne by the government;

The Alberta association of municipal districts has finally approved of the general idea of this Act, though they had expressed a desire to have a more independent commission with much greater powers. Hon. Mr. Ross, however, firmly believes that the final responsibility should rest with the government, and his Act has been drafted on that principle.

Stony Plain T. P. S.

On Wednesday evening, January 4th, a group of boys and girls were invited to the home of Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Wilson.

A Young People's Society was organized, and it was decided to hold meetings at the Methodist Church on Friday evenings at 8 o'clock.

There will be a social evening once a month.

The following officers were elected:

Pres., Durward Moyer;
Vice-Pres., Miss Robertson.
Secretary-Treas., Miss M. Clarke.

All young people of the age of 14 and over are invited to attend each Friday evening.

Mr. Hainsworth assisted Mr. and Mrs. Wilson in arranging games, guessing contests and music, after which Mrs. Wilson served a dainty lunch.

The party proved a very happy affair.

Canada's Needs

No. 3—A World Market

In trying the view that one of Canada's needs at the present time is a world-wide market for the products of its farms, forests, fisheries and mines, but chiefly its farms, perhaps it would be nearer the mark to say that Canada needs national action by its Federal Government to direct the products of this country to those foreign markets where there is a demand at a profitable price for the very things this Dominion requires to sell and can raise in abundance.

Of all the great producing countries of the world it is possibly not incorrect to say that, speaking nationally, Canada is the most backward of all in promoting trade in other countries. In the years before the war, Germany, under the direct guidance of its national government, was pushing its wares into every nook and corner of the world. Great Britain has for long years been wide awake and active in extending its trade all over the world, and Government agents have been a big factor in developing British trade and the sale of British-made goods in countries both civilized and uncivilized. The United States, too, handicapped though it was because of a lack of merchant shipping has not neglected its opportunities and U.S. consular representatives are active agents in promoting United States trade.

But Canada has done little or nothing. The efforts put forth have been petty and feeble, penny-wise and pound foolish, lacking in vision and totally devoid of real initiative and aggressiveness.

In Canada, both Government and people have, for the most part, been quite content to allow the export trade of the country to be handled and controlled by other countries, with the natural and inevitable result that it has always taken second place to the interests of those countries through which it is controlled. The Government has not had wide awake and trained representatives in foreign countries to size up the situation there, inform our Government of conditions of which Canada could take advantage, and no national machinery whereby such opportunities as presented themselves could be quickly seized.

For example, it has recently been stated by a writer who quoted facts and figures in support of the statements made, that during the past year when livestock were a drag on the Western Canadian market and where a price could not be realized to cover the cost of production there was an active demand at high prices for cattle in Mexico, where, because of the many years of revolution and political upheaval, the livestock of the country was reduced to a minimum. In Mexico, this writer declared, was a ready market at high prices for the very animals which Canada had in abundance and was unable to sell.

In Mexico, also, high prices, almost excessive prices, were being paid for wheat and flour, while the best price obtainable by our Western Canadian farmers for their wheat was less than the cost of growing, harvesting and marketing the wheat through the old methods and channels.

Why has Canada not built up a department of the national government which would, through its foreign representatives, be made immediately aware of such conditions, and which could at once set national machinery in motion to take full advantage of the opportunities thus presented? Instead, we have remained idle, trusting to Old World conditions to right themselves so that our wheat could flow with a profit to Liverpool and Europe, or dribble into the United States, and, with our live cattle shut out of Britain, we have disposed of our cattle at a loss or made meagre sales on the Chicago market.

Canada is a full-fledged member of the League of Nations; our statesmen and politicians, public men and newspapers speak of Canada as a nation, we may as a people be beginning to think nationally, but we have yet to begin the important work of acting nationally. Yet there is no country today in a better position to undertake a national commercial undertaking, and no country stands quite so badly in need of it.

Canada possesses a great system of national railways—the largest mileage under one management of any railway in the world—and it also possesses the greatest privately-owned railway in the world, and the most efficient. Canada likewise owns and operates a national merchant marine with steamers plying on all oceans. The national railways and national merchant marines are both operating at a loss, with annual deficits of between fifty and one hundred million dollars. What they need is more business. The whole country is suffering for lack of markets wherein to sell its surplus products at a price which will yield a profit over production costs. Yet with all this national equipment ready to our hands, the Federal Government has not seized the opportunity of organizing a real department devoted to the development of foreign markets for Canadian products.

It is time Canada had a national trade organization with aggressive, export representatives in all foreign lands offering even a remote chance of being a profitable field for Canadian trade.

Meteors Cause Forest Fires

France has been suffering from forest fires of mysterious origin; the careless cigarette smoker has been blamed, but foresters and some meteorologists now incline to the belief that falling meteors were the cause. In one flame-swept area of a thousand acres were found great meteoric fragments, still hot three days after the fire.

Always Ready and Reliable.—Practically all pains arising from inflammation can be removed with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil.

The Golden Age

The Luxuries of the Past Are Only the Common Comforts of Today

The comforts of 1921 are the luxuries of 1879. What household of that time could obtain the devices which are the common indispensable equipment of our day? Our young men and maidens who demand a standard of living which the youth of 1879 had never thought of may be distressing to old-fashioned people, but they are enjoying natural forces. The Victorians themselves were not content with what satisfied the eighteenth century. That all these changes have made for happiness we may feel no compulsion to believe. But there is nothing in the past to justify us in expecting that the young people of the present will be content with what satisfied us in our youth. They may be going on the road to the true golden age; they may have chosen the primrose path which leads to the everlasting bonfire. What is outside is that they will not stand with London Daily Telegraph.

Grain in Storage

Wheat Stored in Public Elevators Shows An Increase

Grain Statistics issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics for week ending Dec. 30, 1921, show an increase of 412,579 bushels in the amount of grain stored in Canadian public elevators. The figures were as follows:

Oats, 112,491 bushels; barley, 263,644 bushels; and rye, 36,835 bushels.

Wheat and flax show decreases of 17,869 bushels and 23,750 bushels respectively.

WHY BEAUTY FADES

A Condition Due Entirely to Poor, Watery Blood

The girl who returns home from school or from work thoroughly tired out will be fortunate if she escapes a physical breakdown, because this getting tired so easily is probably the first warning symptom of a thinning blood that must not be disregarded if her health is to be preserved.

When the blood becomes thin and impure the patient becomes pale, haggard and angular. She not only tires out easily but suffers from headaches, palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells and a loss of appetite. This condition will go from bad to worse, if prompt steps are not taken to increase and enrich the blood supply. To make the rich, red blood that brings the glow of health no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If given a fair trial their use brings rosy cheeks, bright eyes, a good appetite and good spirits. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made thousands of pale, languid girls active and strong. On the first signs of poor, thin, blood mothers should insist upon their daughters taking a fair course of these pills. They will not only restore health, but will have further doctor bills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

He that blows the coals in quarrels has nothing to do with has no right to complain if the sparks fly in his face.

Painless and perfect in their action, Miller's Worm Powders are always a safe and reliable remedy for children who show symptoms of worms. These symptoms are easily recognizable in a feverish restlessness, frequently ending in convulsions. A point of notable importance is that after Miller's Worm Powders have expelled the worms, the stomach and bowels are toned up into a very healthy condition.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proved.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drope and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. Giant Shell Of War

Heavy Explosive Has Just Been Dug Up Near Mons

A shell weighing two tons, dropped from a height of a mile on the village of Flavay, not far from Mons, in the last year of the war, has just been dug up.

It did not explode when it fell, but made a hole in the earth about fifty feet deep. It is believed that its charge of explosive weighed nearly three-quarters of a ton, and the excavation of such a monstrous shell was a work of great anxiety.

They Profit Most Who Serve Best

Here is Example of the Power of Advertising

Somebody out of touch with truth, once said there is no sentiment in business. Another greater in wisdom, declared: "They profit most who serve best."

All this year a concern that helped put Burlington, Vermont, on the map of national business, is celebrating fifty years of successful service of the womanhood of the world. "Diamond Dye" is half a century old and they are having a series of happy episodes to make the anniversary a noteworthy one.

"Diamond Dye" is a heroic example of the power of advertising for the plant of small beginnings now covers a city block. The business was built in "making good" the advertising that has made "Diamond Dye" a household word. Possibly the greatest asset of this proved old to economy, is the good-will of families that run through generations. Young women tell us that their mothers and grandmothers before them, were Diamond Dye enthusiasts. They like the Diamond "service plan" which makes it clear that for a few cents it is easy to "dye old things new."

The Wells & Richardson people are going to make the golden jubilee of Diamond Dye action wide. They will do this by the biggest newspaper advertising appropriation ever made in the fifty years of service.

Mother! Move Child's Bowels With California Fig Syrup

Happy mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teapspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, croup, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

The Girl Proposes

The inhabitants of Himla, in the Greek Archipelago, are engaged almost entirely in sponge fishing. When a girl desires to marry she waits until she has obtained the number of sponges from the sea that corresponds with the number of years she has lived. These she places in a silk net, which she presents to the man of her choice. Should he refuse, his chance of obtaining another bride are remote, or usually the Himlian maiden shuns him as a punishment.

When in Need of a Tonic Should Start on the Road to Well-being by Following This Advice

Petersburg, Ont.—"I can speak in the highest praise of Dr. Pierce's medicine. I suffered for a long time with female weakness, through which I became all run-down, weak and nervous. I also had severe backaches, pains in my side and bearing pains. I inquired of Dr. Pierce's medicine and began at once to take them. I took two bottles each of the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and they completely cured me of all my weaknesses and restored me to good health."

"At one time my husband became afflicted with a chronic cough which caused him to become all run-down. He got so thin he was almost a skeleton. He tried many medicines but did not get any better until he took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By taking this medicine he was completely restored to good health. I shall always speak a good word for Dr. Pierce's medicine."

MICHAEL A. HARGADON, Author of Irish and Canadian Poems

"Irish and Canadian Poems"

Volume of Verse Which is Attracting Wide Attention

A most valuable and delightful contribution to Canadian literature is a recently published book, "Irish and Canadian Poems," by Michael A. Hargadon. No one can peruse its pages without coming under the spell of this enchanter. A very wide range of subjects are treated in most simple style and yet with a wealth of understanding and sincerity. With an evident love of nature and a gift of imagination, Mr. Hargadon's descriptive poems of Ireland are delightful. None the less pleasing are his verses dealing with the scenic beauties of Canada, the land of his adoption.

All lovers of poetry will sorely revel in this volume, for the themes will strike a responsive chord in the hearts of everyone. Nicely printed and illustrated with many beautiful Canadian and Irish scenes, the book will prove a valued possession. The ever genial George H. Ham writes a fitting introduction to the work of this brilliant young poet.

A Cordial Invitation To Disease

This is an apt description of Constipation. It's an unnatural condition to begin with—but it's dangerous because it leads to indigestion, fills the system with poisons, brings on anemia. You don't need a purgative, you don't want to weaken the system by a harsh gripping medicine—what you need is mild natural stimulant to the bowels. You get just what you need in Dr. Hamilton's Pills which tone up the liver, restore the bowels to perfect action and positively and completely regulate your system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Good for young and old—a real family medicine. 25c all dealers or The Catarthous Co., Montreal.

Hoarseness Rubbed Away Quickly By Nerviline

Changeable weather causes congestion and sore throat. The blood must be drawn from the inflamed part, and this is speedily done by applying Nerviline. The beauty of Nerviline is that it penetrates quickly. It is not oily and every drop sinks right in. It draws out the inflammation, eases the pain, makes the chest and throat well quickly. For relieving coughs, colds, hoarseness, Nerviline is the proper remedy. Thousands may so. Large 15c bottles sold everywhere.

Minard's Liniment for Warts, Corns, Etc.

WHY IS IT

That chronic skin diseases which have defied all other treatments yield to Zam-Buk?

It is because Zam-Buk is germicidal, and also has such power of penetration that it reaches disease in the underlying tissues and cures from the "root" up. That is the only way a permanent cure can be effected.

Mr. H. C. Buckley of 461 H. Broadway, Portland, Oregon, says: "For chronic skin diseases there is nothing like Zam-Buk. For fifteen years I had eczema, and I tried an endless number of so-called 'eczema cures,' but nothing was capable of curing me permanently until I used Zam-Buk. Ten months' use of Zam-Buk has effected a complete cure."

For ulcers, abscesses, boils, ringworm, blood-poisoning, piles, burns, scalds and cuts, Zam-Buk is equally good. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, & for $1.25.

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little one out for an airing. The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little one healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent colds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

World's Slow Speed Record

Turtle Travelled a Little Over a Mile in Three Years
Turtles that Prof. A. S. Pearce, of the University of Wisconsin, tagged and let loose, have achieved what is believed to be a world's record for turtle speed. Prof. Pearce announced at Toronto at the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science that one turtle had travelled a little over a mile in three years, 11 months and 19 days. The average distance covered by 160 turtles in 5 months was 115 yards. Prof. Pearce has determined that the density of turtle population "in a swampy region on the shore of Lake Mendota, Wis. is five to twenty-five per acre."

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

is greatly relieved by constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

Simple White Satin Evening Gown

By Marie Belmont

The mode of all white for evening here finds charming expression in white satin outlined in pearl beads. The slim, straight alibonette forms an effective contrast to the bouffant types that are finding their way into every bedroom nook.

The beauty of this gown lies in its simple inspiration. The dress is made of two straight panels, of which the back one is left plain across the neck. The straight panel is slit down the front a short distance from the neck. The points are then pulled over to each shoulder, forming a V-neck, with an irregular line extending down the sides to the waistline. The satin underlay has lace-trimmed accented chiffon at the sides.

THIN, FLAT HAIR GROWS LONG, THICK AND ABUNDANT

"Danderine" costs only 25 cents a bottle. One application cures all dandruff, stops itching and falling hair, and in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, so soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and dewy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. "Danderine" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, lustrous and abundant.

Stony Plain Local A. W. I.

The annual business meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Gates on Saturday last, Jan. 14th.

The Secretary gave a very satisfactory report of the year's work, also the convenors of the various committees. Then followed the election of officers for 1922:

Pres., Mrs. Gates.

1st V-Pres., Mrs. Malloch.

2d V-Pres., Mrs. Stuart.

Sec.-Treas., Mrs. J. F. Clarke.

Directors, Mesdames Umbach, Lory, Outway, Kowensky.

Convenors of the standing committees:

Program, Miss Ashcroft.

Social, Mrs. Lory and Mrs. Kowensky.

Auditors, Mrs. Lory and Mrs. Brooks.

A delightful lunch was served by Mrs. Gates and Miss Hartley.

The members of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. D. A. Stuart on Wednesday, Jan. 11. There were 20 members present, and an enjoyable time was spent.

After the reading of the minutes, Miss Ashcroft gave the program of each meeting for the first six months, and, it adhered to, will be very interesting.

Mrs. Lory then followed with a list of the social events till after Easter, which are of a varied character.

Mrs. Malloch read the current events of the past month, which proved specially interesting with the Irish question and the Washington Conference as subjects.

The chief item of the afternoon was Mrs. F. E. Wilson's paper on Nova Scotia. This was particularly instructive and entertaining.

Mrs. Kowensky read a short article on the Village Beautiful, which gave the members some good ideas to be used on Arbor Day to beautify our local village.

The program was concluded with a reading by Mrs. Gates from Lord Tennyson's works.

The tea hostesses were Mrs. F. E. Wilson and Mrs. D. A. Stuart.

Four new members were enrolled.

With Winter in the Air

CRÊPE, velours, tulle and doretye are new weaves among the fabrics Paris dictates for Winter! And colors! Brick red, leaf green and brown—it is as if fashion has brought back, in fabrics, the colors Winter banished from the landscape.

These lovely colors, these exquisite fabrics, you yourself can make into the delightful clothes shown on this page, or any number of others just as smart.

Our prices on fabrics are exceedingly moderate. And there is another saving brought to you by the Deltor—a wonderful new invention—that is enclosed with Butterick Patterns, and with Butterick Patterns only.

The DELTOR Saves You 50c to $10

1. The Deltor gives you an individual layout chart (yes, an individual chart—not just a general chart but one for your exact size and for each suitable width of material.) Changes at Poncha Hospital

Important changes are to be made to effect shortly at the Poncha Mental Hospital, as decided by Hon. R. G. Reid, Minister of Health. Mr. Brown, of the Department of Health, is to be put in charge as business manager of the institution, which will be under the Medical Super. Dr. Cook, in much of the detail. It is also decided that the term of 1920 shall come under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture. The asylum under the Local Board developed a high state of efficiency, the percentage of cure being 75, the highest in Canada. There are now nearly 800 patients confined there.

KODAK the Farm

Many a time you have wished you had more pictures of the farm as it was when you were a child. You would like to compare them with changes about the place to-day and all the improvements which have been made.

And the children away from home will appreciate more than you think pictures of familiar spots.

Begin now to take pictures of your home. There are so many things you'll want to Kodak.

There's a size for just your needs at a price to suit you.

YOU CAN GET 150 MORE
FOR A BUSHEL OF WHEAT

That Is What You Can Do Provided You Take Advantage of Our Offer

We have made arrangements with the E. H. Heath Co. Limited who publish the CANADIAN POWER FARMER whereby we are able to offer that farm magazine together with our own weekly at the low price for both papers.

The CANADIAN POWER FARMER is Western Canada's biggest farm monthly. It is now in its twentieth year which means that it is thoroughly established throughout the West. It deals with the mechanical side of the farm. Every issue is full of helpful hints and experiences on the operation of all kinds of farm machinery from a washing-machine to a tractor. Its editor has just completed a trip of several months over Western Canada in a motor car for the purpose of studying the mechanical needs of the farmers. He visited the farmers, lived with them and worked with them. The results of his trip will appear during the next twelve months.

This offer may be withdrawn at any time. Without doubt your intention is to renew for this weekly, then why not take advantage now. Your subscription to this weekly together with a year's subscription to THE CANADIAN POWER FARMER for the same price as this weekly alone. This is where you make $1.50 on a bushel of wheat.

Mail your cheque or drop into our office the first time you are in town.

Progressive Party Will Maintain Identity In The Ottawa House

Windsor. — Farmer-Progressive members of parliament will support the government in putting into effect reforms which have been advocated by the National Progressive Party, but the identity of the Progressive Party will be maintained. This was made plain by Hon. T. A. Cresser, in his first speech since the election, when he read to the convention of the United Farmers of Manitoba a resolution adopted at the secret conference of Progressive members-elect at Saskatoon, December 20. This resolution was read as follows:

"That this meeting of the western supporters of the National Progressive Party, having taken under consideration the existing political situation in Canada and the course the Progressive Party should follow, is of the opinion that the gravity and importance of our many national problems call for a strong government."

"That the first consideration of the Progressive Party will be to support the legislation the country needs, both in the economic and administrative sense, and in the larger sense of promoting and developing the spirit of Canadian national unity; and we will extend to the Hon. Mr. King's government all reasonable cooperation and support in any efforts it may make to enact into legislation those economic and administrative reforms which have been advocated by the National Progressive Party, while at the same time maintaining the complete identity and organization of the Progressive Party."

"That resolution," commented Mr. Cresser, "of the sentiments expressed in it, will be the sentiments which will guide the Progressive members in the House of Commons."

Driver's Quick Action Saves Many Lives

Bomb Thrown at Car Goes Wide of Mark

Bellini. — A bomb was thrown at a tramcar bearing seventy-five persons to their work in the Crum Road district. The quick action of the driver, who put full speed on when he heard a revolver shot, resulted in the missile going wide of the mark. The passengers were greatly frightened by the explosion, which splintered the car. A man and his wife living nearby who went to the door of their house to learn the cause of the commotion were shot dead by a volley of rifle fire which swept the streets.

German Railways May Seize Coal Shipments

Berlin. — Authorization has been given by the Government officials in charge of operating the railways for the seizure and use of private coal shipments in transit where necessary, to prevent a traffic stoppage through the fuel shortage which is said to be acute on many divisions. Shortage of rolling stock and the coal deliveries to the mines are given as reasons for the fuel shortage.

Public carnivals and celebrations have been prohibited by the Prussian Government. The other federal governments have been asked to leave orders along the same lines.

Idle Land Incurs Loss

Farmers Urged to Substitute Oats for Part of Summerfallow

Saskatoon, Sask. — An appeal for experiment on the part of farmers in the matter of substituting oats sown in rows at least for a part of their summerfallow was voiced at the agricultural societies convention by Prof. Manley Champlin, of the field husbandry department of the University of Saskatchewan. Prof. Champlin pointed out that particularly under present conditions, account must be taken of the loss incurred by leaving land idle in summerfallow, a loss which had to be written off against the cost of grain production. There was also an address on farm management systems by W. C. McKillop, superintendent of the Brandon Experimental Farm.

New Kind of Fuel

Port Arthur, Ont. — The use of elevator screenings, which consist of short straw weeds, for fuel, is being practiced generally in the business blocks of the city. Since the ruling of the board of health that no more screenings should be dumped into the waters of the bay, the elevators have been hard put to find an outlet for the ever-increasing surplus. Screenings are said to give off as good a heat as soft coal.

In Closer Touch With Motherland

Burnham Sees Good Results From Imperial Press Meeting

London. — Lord Burnham, proprietor of the Daily Telegraph, speaking at the production of a film illustrating the meetings of the Imperial Press Conference, of which he was chairman, held in Canada some time ago, said there was no doubt that, as a direct result of the conference and the intimate contact it brought leading British journalists into with Canadian conditions from Halifax to Victoria, the great daily newspapers of London and the province had largely increased their intelligence department regarding Canada and were carrying more Canadian news than ever before.

Lord Burnham went on to refer to the corresponding value that was being obtained by Canadian daily newspapers through the arrangement entered into between Reuters and Canadian Press Limited, whereby a valuable supplementary cable service of British news was going direct from London into their offices. "Not the least important part of this new departure was the access that the Canadian Press thus got to the news of the British Press Association, the co-operative organ of British newspapers covering news of the British Isles in much the same way as the Canadian Press covers the news of the Dominion."

Withdraw Japanese Troops

Washington. — The Japanese delegates to the armament conference tentatively agreed to withdrawal of the Japanese troops from the former German Kiaochow leasehold and from the Tung Tao Tsinanfu Railway on condition that China furnish proper police.

Work Started For Empire Exhibition

London. — The Duke of York and the first lady at the entrance to the national sports ground at Wembley, inaugurating the work in preparation for the British Empire exhibition, which is to be held in 1925.

The Duke expressed pleasure that work would be found through the undertaking for part of the vast army of London's unemployed. He also felt gratified that the exhibition's guarantee fund had exceeded the minimum of a million pounds, and wished the important imperial enterprise every success.

Daily Newspaper Publishers Meet

Important Matters Discussed at Conference in Regina

Regina. — Publishers of daily newspapers in the three prairie provinces were in conference here discussing various matters affecting the publishing business.

The question of the additional heavy burden thrown on newspaper publishers by the 1925 rate increase in the postage rate on second class mail matter came in for considerable discussion, and it was shown that in the case of some of the larger newspapers the increased postal rate meant an additional expense of $2 per mail subscriber per annum.

The question of wage scales obtaining in the prairie provinces was likewise discussed at considerable length. Compared with Vancouver and Eastern Canada, it was shown that the wage scale at present operative in the prairie provinces are very much higher, so much so as to place the printing and publishing business of the three prairie provinces under a very severe handicap.

The following publishers were present: E. H. Macklin, Manitoba Free Press; E. M. Nicholls, Winnipeg Tribune; Allan Holmes, Prince Albert Herald; C. A. Elvin, Saskatoon Star and Phoenix; Barford Hooke, Regina Leader and Post; Thom Miller, Moose Jaw Times; A. Tyrrell, Medicine Hat News; J. H. Woods and W. Watson, Calgary Herald; A. Ford, Calgary Albertan; A. Turranee, Lethbridge Herald; John M. Iurie, Edmonton Journal; G. McNeil, Edmonton Bulletin.

Want Reduction in Tariff

Resolution Will Be Introduced in Saskatchewan Legislature to this Effect

Regina. — The Saskatchewan Legislature has resumed session after the Christmas vacation. Hon. E. J. Latta gave notice of a resolution to be brought forward asking the Federal Government for a general reduction in the customs tariff; resumption of reciprocity negotiations with the United States; and placing on the free list all agricultural implements, farm and household machinery, vehicles, fertilizers, coal, lumber, cement, gasoline, lubricating and lubricating oils, and raw materials and machinery used in their manufacture.

Mr. Dunbar, Minister, will introduce a resolution asking the Dominion Government to prohibit the export liquor traffic.

Hon. Mr. Denning gave notice of a resolution pressing for reduction of freight rates. In introducing for the second reading the bill to ratify agreements for the lignite experiments, Mr. Denning stated that there was hope for success which justified the voting of additional funds.

A Beggar Captured

Madrid. — Eliseo Pita Rodriguez, when he was rounded up in a police raid on the beggar posts of Madrid the other day, proved to be a capitalist with $20,000 in his name in a provincial bank, while he also possesses a farm with 50 acres. This fortune is the result of many years of money.

Dublin. — Eamon De Valera informed the correspondents that he believed his party would ignore the meeting of the parliament. In response to an inquiry regarding his plans, he said he intended to continue the fight for independence; he supposed elections would be held within six or nine months.

Such elections added Mr. De Valera, take the signing of the treaty in London as an example, would be held under the British threat of renewal of warfare, and therefore he would not accept the verdict as the unopposed will of the people.

"There is a big line of cleavage," said Mr. De Valera, "between those standing for dependence and those for independence. Never would he under any conditions take the oath of allegiance contained in the treaty. Alluding to the Irish republican bonds, he declared they would be redeemed by whatever government was eventually established, and added that a meeting of the leaders of the Sinn Féin party would be held to consider the general position."

An important development was the issuance of a manifesto by the Irish Labor party stating that labor would participate in the elections to secure representation in the new free state government.

The method adopted in summoning those who are to ratify the treaty is held to indicate that the British desire to avoid friction in the transfer of the authority of Ireland. Instead of acting directly, the British Government acted through the Dail cabinet, leaving the Dail to initiate execution of the treaty.

The Associated Press is officially informed that the heads of the Dublin Castle would do their utmost to facilitate and expedite the provisional government's taking over full authority. Arrangements have already been made for the speedy evacuation of the auxiliaries and, as soon as the treaty is ratified by the southern parliament, evacuation of the army will begin. Any of the existing Irish officials whom the free state disallows must be compensated from Irish funds, excepting the auxiliaries and Black and Tans, who will be compensated by the British Government.

DO YOU SMOKE TOO MUCH?

There are many men on whose heart and nervous system tobacco causes the most serious results. It causes palpitation, pain in the heart, irregularity of its beat, makes the hands tremble, acts the nerves on edge, causes shortness of breath and loss of sleep.

To counteract this demoralizing influence on the heart and nerves there is no remedy so equal.

MILBURN'S

HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and remove all the evil results caused by the tobacco.

Mr. Frank Lupton, 11 Terrace Hill St., Bradford, Ont., writes:—"I had been troubled with palpitation of the heart for a number of years, and by spells it would bother me a lot. The doctor told me it would stop on me sometimes if I did not cut out tobacco. When I would get a spell my heart would pound, and I would break out in a perspiration, and get so weak I would have to sit right down and quit my work; also in the night I would wake up and my heart would be going. I should say, about 120 beats a minute. About three years ago I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, took them, and found that they did the job. I am feeling fine and have gained over 50 pounds in weight."

Price, 50c a box of all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

One third of your life is allotted to sleep. Do you get your share?

The most important period in the process of applying nutrition to the repair of the body is while you are asleep. For the most favorable transformation of digested food into nerve and cell tissue, so doctors tell us, sleep is absolutely essential.

Is it any wonder that those who suffer from lack of proper sleep are weak, pale and lacking in energy or ambition?

One of the causes of insomnia is nerve-irritation from tea and coffee drinking. Tea and coffee both contain caffeine, which has a tendency to cause undue stimulation. The irritating effect of caffeine often results in insomnia, depression, and a weakened nervous system.

You can easily overcome these troubles by drinking Postum instead of tea or coffee. Postum is a delicious, satisfying cereal beverage, and it is absolutely free from caffeine, or any other harmful substance.

Ask your grocer for Postum. Drink this delicious, refreshing beverage for ten days. Then see if you do not feel better and more clear headed, and if you do not sleep better at night—do so many other people have proved for themselves.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Tommy's Birthday Party.

A lively entertainment was enjoyed on the evening of Saturday last, Jan. 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Shroever, in honor of their son, Master Thomas, who became twelve years old at midnight of the same evening.

There were games of all kinds, which were indulged in by twenty-two of Tommy's school chums; as well as some very good athletic stunts pulled off by the boys and the girls being the champions for needle threading, by sitting on the side of a jug on the floor.

Shortly before midnight someone let the cat out of the bag by remarking "Guard the doors!" but young Thomas by this time became very uneasy, and, as there were no tall timbers to make for, the next best place was under the bed. The boys and girls proceeded at once to get him, and he was taken out and given his Royal Bumps, after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Noble.

The charming party was brought to a close in the early hours of morning with three cheers for Master Tom, given in a hearty manner by the grown folks.

Death of Mr. Lindley.

All of us in Stony Plain will bear with deepest regret of the decease of Mr. T. P. Lindley, one of the district's oldest timers and hardest, most unselfish and patriotic workers.

Mr. Lindley left for the South a few years ago, to the surprise of everyone who knew him, as he seemed rooted in Stony Plain.

He helped greatly in the development of this district; nothing was trouble to him; take, for instance, the Consolidated School, the Agricultural Society, Demonstration Farm, Ferry over Saskatchewan, Edmonton Championship exhibit, Government Short Course, School Board, etc. Most of his work on these was in conjunction with the Board of Trade.

He was a sincere friend and courteous opponent. A man such as Mr. Lindley can only find his reward in the appreciation and regard of his fellow-men.

If one could write his epitaph it might well read: "Here lies a devoted friend, a true patriot, a faithful citizen, a courteous opponent, and one of nature's gentlemen."—C. W. Roswell.
